The Opinose Nationals, in an article upon the Conference at Vienna, states that the question of the Venetian debt is now simplified. In consequence of the declarations of the Prussian and French Governments, Austria no longer insists that Italy should assume a portion of the general Austrian debts incurred since 1859. It is therefore established in principle that Italy shall only assume the Lombardo-Venetian debt and a portion of the debt incurred by the loan of 1854.

LE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

etter of Thanks to Mr. Beecher. NEW YORK, Oct. 8, 1866, o the Rev. HENRY WARD BERCHER, Plymouth Church, Brooklyn:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR-By the unaniions vote of the Cleveland Convention, we re instructed to thank you for your letter or response to the invitation tendered you to the response to the invitation tendered you to fficiate as Chaplain to that body. While with profound regret we learned that you could not honor us with your presence, we are grateful for the able, eloquent and masterly manner in which you gave your endorsement to our Convention and elucidated its objects.

ment to our Convention and elucidated its objects.

The sentiments you have enunciated find scho in the heart of every true lover of his country; and we feel peculiarly impressed with your unterances as reflecting the randeur, the devotion, the chivalry of the older, who from pure motivos perils all that life is worth—yea, life itself.

Coming from you, sit—so distinguished as a philosopher, philanthropist, and divine,—one who has made the benedit of his fellow-man the study of his life, and who by bright example has libustrated all his principles—this letter has created profound sensation throughout our land. Its wisdom, its enlightened Christian patriotism, its good effects, will yet be acknowledged, when the excitement of the present shall have subsuded, and reason, with unbiassed judgment, shall have assumed its wonted sway.

The people, striving to calm their excited passions, pause to reflect. The hasty judgment of the hour is giving way to the sobes second thought; and with the encouragement we have received from you, and mea who like you preach "peace on earth and good will to men," we feel inspired to persevere in the work so anspiciously commenced, and with God's blessing feel confident of ultimate success. Rising above party and all partizan considerations, we hope to close the wounds a bloody war has indicted upon our beloved and glorious Union. "With charity for all and malice to none," we are endeavoring to re-establish our Government upon foundations so firm, Union. "With charity for all and malice to none," we are endeavoring to re-establish our Government upon foundations so firm, so just, so equitable, that neither passion, fanaticism, nor sectionalism, shall ever again disturb or upheave them.

But this is not the occasion, sir, to discuss the grave issues presented to the peoplesissues that we trust may be discussed without invective, crimination or abuse, but rather in a spirit of Christian forbearance, that will result in the healing of the nation.

For your sympathy, your prompt co-opera-For your sympathy, your prompt co-opera-tion, your kindly expressions, we thank you, and pray that the Almighty may long pre-serve a life made so precious through its genius, patriotism, and large humanity for all mankind.
